

Wind wreaks havoc

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

The lungs of Mother Nature have to hurt after Holyoke and the surrounding area experienced nasty wind gusts last week. Not only did wind make it difficult for firefighters who battled the fire north of Paoli Thursday, Oct. 18, it ripped limbs from trees around town, blew garbage cans down alleys and toppled the fence pictured below. Gusts were recorded reaching 54 mph. ☐☐

—Enterprise photos

Holyoke Enterprise October 25, 2012