Two On Tap will take its delightful show to Ogallala, Neb. Thursday, Nov. 29 at the Ogallala High School Lecture Hall at 7 p.m. This performance is sponsored by the Ogallala Regional Arts Council as part of their 2012-2013 concert series.

Two On Tap marks the creative collaboration of two celebrated musical theatre performers (and longtime friends) Melissa Giattino and Ron DeStefano. Their combined love for the beautiful melodies from the early days of Broadway along with the classic precision of tap choreography take center stage in their hit show A Tribute To Song and Dance.

Both Giattino and DeStefano have spectacular Broadway careers in addition to their Two On Tap tours throughout the U.S. Their fine piano accompanist will also be featured from time to time playing piano favorites of the era.

These performers will bring a chemistry and artistry of iconic song-and-dance couples like Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers to the stage for an unforgettable show.

Two on Tap will weave tons of their trademark tapping with audience favorites like "Yes Sir, that's my Baby," "On the Sunny Side of the Street," "Tea for Two," "You made me Love you," "If you knew Susie, Like I know Suzie" and lots of other Tin Pan Alley favorites.
