

Youth hunt March 30

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

Phillips County Pheasants Forever and Colorado Parks and Wildlife are joining up to provide an educational and exciting day for both novice and youth hunters.

Saturday, March 30, there will be a novice/youth hunt at Camp Machasay. Participants will shoot blue rocks, go on a safety walk (shoot, don't shoot), have a chance to bag a pheasant or two and learn how to clean them.

A hunter safety card is required. Participants can bring a shotgun or borrow one. Other materials are provided, and lunch will be served at this free event. There will be lots of volunteers and three dogs on hand to help hunters have a good time.

For more information or to register, call Stacey at 970-520-1364.
