

Members boast of 4-H benefits

Written by Kyle Arnoldy

Phillips County 4-H'ers are celebrating National 4-H week Oct. 6-12. The program offers benefits for participants of all ages as life skills can be gained through the activities.

Phillips County has five clubs involved in 4-H—Better Beef Makers, Challengers, Holyoke Centennial, Paoli Hustlers and Raising Ranchers.

With 4-H in its 103rd year, members from Phillips County came forward to express what they love about 4-H.

Kindra Plumb 4-H program associate

As a member of 4-H from the age of 8-19, Phillips County 4-H program associate Kindra Plumb had an opportunity to see the benefits that being involved in the program can offer.

“I think the leadership skills the kids get by starting early is a huge benefit to them,” Plumb said.

For the full article, contact us about subscribing to our e-Edition. 970-854-2811

Holyoke Enterprise October 10, 2013