

Oh the weather outside is frightful, but the library is so delightful

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

Library patrons braved the frightfully cold temperatures and a light, freshly fallen snow on the ground last Sunday afternoon, Dec. 8 for the annual Heginbotham Library Extravaganza. A variety of homemade goodies and crafts were on sale, and the beautifully decorated library was a treat for the eyes while people snacked on drinks and cookies.

Above, Dixie Ishee (with Cathy Sullivan in the background) fills her arms with the tempting holiday gift items. Heginbotham Library made just over $1,000 from Sunday's sale and silent auction. The funds will go toward the kids' library storytime and the youth summer reading programs.□

□—Enterprise photo

Holyoke Enterprise December 12, 2013