Written by Holyoke Enterprise

Those wishing to learn about heirloom vegetables are encouraged to attend a workshop Monday, March 26 at 1 p.m. at Phillips County Event Center.

Participants in the workshop will learn about the choices they have for growing heirlooms, learn best practices for the cultural care of different heirloom vegetables, learn about the benefits of growing heirlooms and the down side of growing heirlooms as well as understand the difference of what hybrid vegetable plants can do and what heirloom vegetables can do.

There is a charge for the workshop. Those interested are encouraged to pre-register by Friday, March 23. For questions, call Linda Langelo at 854-3616.
