

Child care class set in Yuma

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

For those who enjoy caring for children, there is an opportunity to make a good income by becoming a licensed family child care provider. Licensed family child care providers set their own rates, work their own schedule and even decide the number and ages of children they wish to care for.

There is a constant demand for more family child care homes throughout northeast Colorado. In fact, licensed family child care homes are where the majority of working families find care for their children. The requirements for becoming a licensed family child care provider are reasonable and the costs, in some areas, can be covered by a mini-grant.
