

Shop locally this season

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

---

Finding the perfect tree, hunting for special menu ingredients and searching for ideal gifts can be stressful. The Colorado Department of Agriculture has a variety of online resources to help consumers through this special, but hectic, time of year.

The Colorado Food and Agriculture Gift Guide and the Colorado Christmas Tree List help shoppers connect with local producers.

“You make a difference when you choose Colorado,” said Commissioner of Agriculture John Salazar. “I encourage you to look for the Colorado Proud logo and buy local wherever you shop or dine.”

To read the full article, subscribe to our e-Edition. Call 970-854-2811.

Holyoke Enterprise December 12, 2013