

PCTelcom administrative offices relocate

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

---

PCTelcom technicians gather for their regular Monday morning meeting, only in new headquarters this week, at 520 S. Interocean Ave., the former medical clinic in Holyoke.

Only administrative offices have relocated. All customer service (payment of bills, new service, additional service) and technician-based requests should still be handled at the office on the east edge of Holyoke, at 120 N. Sunflower Dr.

More remodeling and relocation is in the works for the local company, with a tentative September move planned when the customer service office, as well as Radio Shack will return to PCTelcom's original site at 240 S. Interocean Ave. On the south side of these remodeled quarters will be a courtyard with a bench for a relaxation place for community members.

An open house is scheduled at the administration offices at 520 S. Interocean Ave. on Wednesday, Aug. 5, at the Holyoke Chamber of Commerce lunchtime Hot Diggity Dog Days. In the future, a Grand Reopening celebration will be held at 240 S. Interocean.

PCTelcom technicians are pictured, from left, Kim Dickmeyer, J.C. Peckham, Steven Wright, Lance Williams (partially hidden), Steve Beavers, Marlin Kumm and Pete Markle.