

HHS girls' golf places fourth

Written by Kyle Arnoldy

After having to miss the first tournament of the season due to a lack of available girls and the second tournament being postponed because of spring break issues, HHS lady golfers hit the links for the first competition of the season Friday, April 11 at the Holyoke Invitational at Holyoke Golf Course.

In the five-team field, Holyoke placed fourth with a team score of 371. Alex McCallum led the Lady Dragons with a 115, followed by Taylor Bernard 124 and Kelsey Kramer 132. Holyoke's fourth varsity player had to miss the tournament due to sickness.

To read the full article, subscribe to our e-Edition. Call 970-854-2811 for details!

HHS girls' golf team members, pictured in back, from left, Hannah Johnson, Kelsey Kramer, Taylor Bernard, Alex McCallum and Federica Detomas gather around coaches Alyssa Cordova, pictured at left facing the team, and Michaela Worley before Friday's home tournament. □ □

—Enterprise photo

Holyoke Enterprise April 17, 2014