

'Once Upon a Mattress' on HHS stage

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

Even though the story of “The Princess and the Pea” is well known, audience members might be in for a walloping surprise at the HHS Drama Department’s production of “Once Upon a Mattress,” set to hit the stage this weekend.

Performances are Friday and Saturday, March 22-23 at 8 p.m. in the HHS auditorium both nights.

Serving as the director of this year’s spring musical is Eric Conklin, with Penny Dockins as assistant director and Pat Wiebers as music director.

A spin on the classic tale, there’s a good chance this musical will make audiences never look at fairy tales quite the same way again.

For instance, they might not have known that Princess Winnifred actually swam the moat to reach Prince Dauntless the Drab or that Lady Larken’s love for Sir Harry provided a rather compelling reason that she reach the bridal altar post haste. And people probably don’t know it wasn’t, in fact, the pea that caused the princess a sleepless night.
