

Big flakes welcome students to school

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

Big white and heavy snowflakes welcomed students to school Tuesday morning, March 29. Although temperatures weren't too cold, the snow stuck, making streets and sidewalks wet and slippery. These two students were all bundled up as they bounded over puddles just outside of Holyoke Elementary prior to beginning their school day. —Enterprise photo