

Jack Frost returns

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

After a week of sunshine that felt more like April than the end of January, the cold weather has returned to Holyoke.

With trace amounts of precipitation falling late Monday night, Jan. 28, into the wee hours of Tuesday morning, Jan. 29, people around the town woke up to white roads and frosted windows. ☐☐

—Enterprise photo

Holyoke Enterprise January 31, 2013