Written by Holyoke Enterprise

Holyoke High School was taken over by the color green Thursday, Feb. 13 for the high school green out basketball games with Haxtun.

Student cheering sections were extra rowdy during the exciting games Thursday night as multiple high school students attended the games with the school's colors painted on their chests. The community pep band also added to the atmosphere of the night with live music.

Both Holyoke boys' and girls' basketball teams picked up wins in front of the enthusiastic crowd.
